

Ritter & Rhoads

Beginning Monday, July 2d, we will close daily at 5 P. M. except Saturday, when the closing hour will be 6 P. M.

12-Button Lisle Gloves for Women

White, Black and Pink Lisle, with two buttons at the wrist. Fresh supply just in, and we confidently assert the Gloves to be the best 12-button Lisle in Richmond.

75c

Men's Eclipse Shirts

Hundreds of new garments in this week—the swellest-looking Shirts at a dollar that ever a man put on. Dozens of different patterns and styles.

$1

Plain white, with attached or detached cuffs. White, with plaited bosoms, neat figures and stripes; also, the effects.

These shirts not only fit well, but wear and look well.

We have a lot of 'em in the Broad-Street windows. Best made at $1.

COTCHMAN SANG RECESS TAKEN BALLADS OF HOME UNTIL MONDAY

Professor MacKenzie Pleases the Teachers of Normal School With Scotch Songs.

COMING WEEK WILL BE BUSY

Professor Mitchell and Mr. Burruess Among Lecturers—Other New Teachers.

Teachers and instructors at the summer normal were busy saying goodbye to Professors Woodley and MacKenzie, who left yesterday, the former going to lecture at the school of methods at the University of Virginia, and the latter returning to Kentucky, where he will conduct eight normal schools this summer.

Much to the regret of all the teachers the model school held its last session yesterday. Too much cannot be said in praise of the teacher, Miss Louise Galek. She herself was much pleased with her reception, and she says the pupils in the model school are the finest group of children she has ever seen. The little ones were treated to ice cream at the close of the session yesterday. Their names are George Bruce, Clarence Hughes, Llewelyn Kendler, Valentine Lee, Mary Shine, Bonnie Thomas, Laura Richardson, Harris Williamson, Frank Kimbrough, Robert Thompson, Percy King, Helen Borg, Lillian Rice, Mary Dowden, Mary Rattrie, Charlotte Jones, Margaret Herndon, Margaret Shrempe, Constance Gay, Lucy, Valterro, Elizabeth Brown, Lester Wallerstein, Russell Kuhn, Ethel Howerton, Jessie Payne, Tonga Domine, Mamie Brown, Louise Royal, Nellie Phaup, Little Clarke, Rosalee Lawrence, Laura Mills, Virginia Lucy, Rosa Ford, Joseph Peters, Archie Ames, Frank Duthell, Rowe Thomas, Charlie McGeorge.

Sang Scotch Ballads.

The features of yesterday were the final lecture of Professor Woodley on "The Influence of Literature on the Language of the Pupil," and the Burns recital given by Professor MacKenzie in the morning.

The popular Scotchman sang with excellent expression and enunciation, such ballads as "Annie Laurie," "Loch Lomond," "Scots Wha Hae," and "Green Grow the Rashes." He then gave two readings of poems by Burns, "To a Mountain Daisy" and "Lament for the Earl of Glencairn."

Mr. MacKenzie's last lecture on the "Place of Literature in Modern Education" was well attended as usual. He said in part:

"Some people regard poetry as a sort of verbal sugar candy, altogether useless for a practical man of affairs. Ask the average man what he cares for most and he will reply not religion, nor learning, nor love, but, as Irving calls it, 'the Almighty Dollar.' So that in this age, more than in any other, it is the duty of the teacher to encourage a love for literature because in this way the child can come to realize that the unseen is more important than the seen, and far greater than the real."

The lecturer then read two poems from Lloyd Mifflin's "My Lady of Dreding," both of which were new to the audience, and in his judgment the productions of the greatest American idealist of the present time.

Yesterday afternoon a merry party of instructors and their friends went down the James to "Shirley" on the city tug boat. Besides the visitors, Messrs. Walford, Fox, and Ebel of the city school board, and Messrs. Binford, Burruss and Blanton were in the party.

Next week will, if possible, be even more profitable than this. Miss Ethel Wigg, supervisor of Primary Methods at Passaic, N. J., will lecture to primary teachers on "Methods" and to the grammar teachers on "Geography."

Mr. J. A. Burruss, director of Manual Training in the Richmond schools, will lecture throughout the week on "Phases of Modern Education." Mr. Burruss is a Richmond man, and is well equipped for his work being a graduate of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute and a degree man of Columbia University.

Dr. S. C. Mitchell, of Richmond College, will lecture at noon Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Miss Charlotte Wray, of Hampton, Va., will have classes in primary reading, and will probably lecture also on other subjects.

Monday at 12 o'clock Mayor McArthur, of Richmond, and Superintendent R. C. Stearnes, of Salem, Va., will give short addresses.

There will be no session of the school on Wednesday, July 4th.

The Richmond teachers who are paying all the expenses of the normal, invite their friends of Richmond and all visiting teachers to come to hear the excellent methods proposed by the instructors.

FAT JOB GOES TO A MAN FROM SOUTHWEST

Robert W. Blair, of Western District, to Come to Richmond

Internal Revenue Office.

Mr. Robert W. Blair, of Wytheville, a young mountain orator, is to become a citizen of Richmond.

Like most Virginia Republicans, Mr. Blair has been holding office. He has been in the revenue service out in Southwest Virginia, and was one of the few Republicans who held seats in the late Constitutional Convention, where he occasionally made a speech.

For some time past he has been holding a position under the collector of internal revenue for the Western District of Virginia. Mr. Blair is the son of the author of the famous expression of Readjuster days, "Honor couldn't buy a breakfast."

The young mountain orator has been appointed chief deputy collector of the Eastern District, under Collector M. K. Lowry, and beginning July 2d, will hold down a desk in the Federal building in this city. This position, to which is attached a salary of $2,000 per year, has however been offered by Mr. Abe Warwick.

A Pretty Girl's Odd Plight.

Evelyn Forrester, of Melcombe Hall, was loved by two men, one a gypsy, one an Englishman. She was half gypsy, half English. The contrasting halves of her nature impelled her to love each of the suitors in Max Fennerton's masterpiece, "The Lady Evelyn," which will appear serially in this paper, beginning Sunday, July 1st.

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Funeral of Mr. Johnson to Take Place To-Day at 10 o'clock.

MANY ARE SUMMONED

Negro Sent On to Grand Jury. Delightful Musicale—Mrs. Fowler Returns Home.

Manchester Bureau Times-Dispatch, No. 111 Main Street.

The funeral of Mr. C. Linwood Johnson, who was killed while at work in the Southern Railway yards on Thursday night, by slipping under a yard engine, will take place this morning at 10 o'clock from Stockton Street Baptist Church. Interment will be in Oakwood Cemetery. Mr. Johnson is survived by his mother, one brother and one sister.

Many Summoned.

There were about sixty-five property owners summoned before the Mayor's Court yesterday morning to answer to complaints made by City Health Officer Dudley Ely, who had found many premises in an unsanitary condition.

In view of the conditions, which make it so difficult to have premises done up, the Mayor was lenient with the people, before him, and allowed them ample time to comply with the health laws. He gave them all thirty, sixty or ninety days, so that everybody might have plenty of time in which to follow out his dictum.

Delightful Musicale.

The instrumental class of Miss Ethel Brown gave a very enjoyable and delightful musicale Thursday afternoon in her home, No. 1203 Bainbridge Street. The following programme was rendered: "Pearly Dewdrops" (Bogel), Miss Lucy Best; "Woodland Whispers" (Stanley), Miss Gladys Jones and Nellie Deitrich; "On With the Polonaise" (Trouble), Miss Mary Illes; "Cleopatra" (Petrie), Misses Alyns Angel and May Ferris; vocal solo, by Mr. J. W. Brown; "Dance of the Demons," Miss Roxie Skiles; "The Graces" (Wachs), Misses Lila Ingram and Kate McIntosh; "Love and Passion" (Mossing), Miss May Ferris; "Saltarelle" (Behr), Misses Lottie Smith and Laura Anderson; "Dance Espagnole" (Lock), Miss Helen Hooker; "Through Field and Forest" (Bogel), Misses Amelie Hart and Pearl Mitchell; "Dancing Spirits" (Bogel); Miss Alyns Angel; "Honeysuckles" (Pohle) (Rosewig), Misses May Nicholson and May Deitrich; "Persian Maiden" (Kotek), Misses Helen Hooker and Roxie Skiles; "Good Bye, My Highland Lass" (Goderier), Miss Lila Ingram; "In Pestal Army" (Bogel), Misses Myrtle Barnett and Edna Sims.

A man was awarded to Miss Helen Hooker for the greatest improvement during the session.

Send Negro to Grand Jury.

Waverley Jones, colored, was yesterday morning sent on to the grand jury by Square Cowan, sitting for Squire Cheatham, in Oak Grove.

The negro was charged with the same old crime—common attempt at assault upon a negro woman, Martha Washington.

Owing to the fact that the commission held a long conference during the meeting, it was 12:15 when the body convened.

Miss Lincoln Green resumed his testimony and was further cross-examined by Attorney-General Anderson, on behalf of the State.

As to Reductions.

Major Anderson questioned the witness further along the line of the effect of rate reductions, upon the moving of traffic, and the latter stuck to his answers previously given—that he regarded the present rates on his lines in Virginia reasonable, and that a reduction in rates already reasonable could not result in detriment to the company or the business interests of the State.

He did not think it would be fair to make the company contribute to the prosperity of the shipper, when such contributions would result in the company doing business at a loss.

Witness said his company had made a great many reductions in rates in the last ten years, and the Attorney-General could not understand how further reductions could prove so disastrous to the company.

The examination of the witness bled for a long time on this point, and he went over many times the ground covered by his former testimony.

There was a good deal of sparing at times between the lawyer and the witness, but it was not marked by any loss of temper on either side.

Witness was asked if there had not been a recent suit against his company by a consignee at Danville, because the company fixed the same rate on freight from Richmond to Danville as from Richmond to Lynchburg, and he explained the matter in a most satisfactory manner.

He said the matter grew out of the shipments of nails from Richmond, and that the shippers of the nails fixed a lower price at Lynchburg than at Danville. The consignee wished to get the benefit of the Lynchburg price on nails, though residing in Danville, and he had the nails shipped to Lynchburg.

The question arose in this way, but out of the freight rate charged.

The Attorney-General wished to know if the business of the Southern had not enormously increased since a direct reduction from time to time in freight rates, and the witness said while, of course, the business had grown with the growth was due to other causes than the reduction of rates.

The commission took a recess at 2 o'clock until 3:30, but the afternoon session was brief, and the witness was not put on.

FAT JOB GOES TO A MAN FROM SOUTHWEST

Robert W. Blair, of Western District, to Come to Richmond

Lee Camp Veterans Meet.

R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, Confederate Veterans, held its regular meeting last night, Commander James Vass presiding. The camp received the circular letter from Major Robert W. Hunter, Virginia Military Secretary, in regard to the roll of the companies of Richmond in the Confederate armies copied in the records, to be preserved by the city of Richmond, and referred the same to the following committee: W. H. Thomas, C. W. P. Brock and A. O. Anderson.

The thanks of the camp were voted to Commander McKay and members of the Ladies' Aid, Post No. 11, G. A. R., Madison, Wis., for their generous action in the dedicatory services of the Confederate monument lately unveiled in Madison, Wis.

General C. Irvin Walker made a short and interesting talk to the camp on the women of the Confederacy.

Comrade T. Catesby Jones read a very interesting poem by Captain William Page Carter on Gettysburg.

A Pretty Girl's Odd Plight.

Evelyn Forrester, of Melcombe Hall, was loved by two men, one a gypsy, one an Englishman. She was half gypsy, half English. The contrasting halves of her nature impelled her to love each of the suitors in Max Fennerton's masterpiece, "The Lady Evelyn," which will appear serially in this paper, beginning Sunday, July 1st.

SPECIAL BULLETIN Chr. Times Dispatch

Features for Sunday.

The Fourth of July.

Notable births, deaths and victories that have marked this important day in the world's history.

The Rockefeller of To-Morrow.

Dexter Marshall will tell about William G. the hard-headed, strong and competent young man, who must look after the great family fortune.

Oddities of the Russians.

Frederick J. Hawk tells some interesting stories about the people and their peculiarities.

Special Foreign Letters.

Dr. Bowen writes of the Asors, and Miss Brownell of the Longworths and social life in London.

Regular Features.

Sporting Section, Industrial Section, Carpenter's Letter, Woman's Page, Children's Fourth of July Page, Horns and Hornmen, Local and State Society, and Sunday Resort Letters.

All the World's News.

"CYCLONE" SAMUELS GETS INTO TROUBLE

Is Alleged That He Scratched Out Constable Burch's Name and Attached His Own.

Constable Charles O. Burch has been charged before Judge Scott of the Henrico court, against his fellow constable, "Cyclone" Samuels, charging the latter with improperly serving a detinue warrant that had been previously used, found non-serviceable and returned by Constable Burch.

The warrant was brought by Green & Co., loan brokers, of 414½ East Marshall Street, against Jacob Jackson, colored, of 1807 Fairfield Street.

The warrant was sworn out by Squire George W. Thomas, and was handed to Constable Burch to be served. Burch found that Jackson lived without his district, being a citizen of Richmond, and returned it to the office when it was issued, on June 24th.

Burch alleges that "Cyclone" Samuels got hold of the warrant, scratched out his (Burch's) name, which was written in ink, substituted his own signature and served the warrant against Jackson.

The case will come up in the July term of Henrico court.

An effort was made to see Constable Samuels for a statement from him, but he could not be found by the reporter.

The famous "Cyclone" lives far out in the country.

LAST DAY OF GRACE.

Taxpayers Must See Collector To-Day or Pay Penalty.

This is the last day on which city taxpayers can settle up and avoid the five per cent penalty. Collector Cunningham will hold his office open until 8 P. M., although it is Saturday, when public offices are supposed to close at noon, for the accommodation of belated taxpayers.

Samuels has suggested that in as much as there is something of a misunderstanding as to dates, the taxpayers ought to have one more day of grace.

If the law will permit, Captain Cunningham is just the kind of man to set the clock back for the accommodation of the people. Possibly he may give slow-goers the benefit of Monday.

HIDES HER CHATTELS.

Woman Charged With Doing Away With Household Property.

Constable Charles O. Burch, of No. 277 Graham Street, Fulton, was charged with the crime of wilfully destroying household goods and traveling at a rate of forty-five miles an hour, leaving in a net which is spread out to catch her. There will be a number of special agents for the protection of the public.

The trial will be held on June 11th, and the whole program has been arranged.

gongs, drums, bugles and hand bells will be some of the leading attractions on this gala day.

ANNEXATION ADVANCED.

Richmond City Case Goes on the Privileged Docket.

Through suggestion made by City Attorney Henry C. Pollard the Richmond city-Henrico county annexation case has been advanced in the Supreme Court of Virginia to the privileged docket. The prosecution is to meet the hearing at the November term of the court, and a decision during this year.